40 years ago, every new kitchen had a table in it. The kitchen table is where kids did homework and families sat for midweek meals. Times changed, how people live changed and somewhere along the line, the table evolved into the nearly ubiquitous kitchen island. Kitchen islands provide additional storage space and they're a great way to position work zones close to where they're needed without ...

Farmhouse style is in! On top of the fact that this style of furniture is gorgeous and adds so much character to a room, I think so many of us love the feel that the farmhouse furniture brings into our home, of the 'farmhouse' mentality -- gathering the family together, working hard, building things with our own two hands. It's both a lovely call back to simpler times and a lovely home style!

or all the furniture, except for the coffee table, is placed completely off the rug. This will look fine, but one exception is the placement of the sofa. In our opinion, the front legs of a sofa can rest on the rug while the rest of the sofa is off the rug. A 5x8 rug will typically be placed under the coffee table, with the rest of the furniture
